TRAINING FOR GENDER EQUALITY AND WOMEN'S EMPOWERMENT

The UN Women Training Centre is the training arm of UN Women, dedicated to supporting the UN and other stakeholders to realize commitments to gender equality, women's empowerment and women's rights through transformative training and learning. Its vision is to be the leading UN Centre that contributes, through training for gender equality, to building a society that respects and promotes human rights for all women and men.

What is Training for Gender Equality?

Training for gender equality is an essential component for UN Women's commitment to advance gender equality and women's empowerment. It is a transformative process that aims to provide knowledge, techniques and tools to develop skills and changes in attitudes and behaviors.

It is a strategy to effect individual and collective transformation towards gender equality through consciousness raising, empowering learning, knowledge building, and skill development. Training helps men and women to build gender competence and acquire the knowledge and skills necessary for advancing gender equality in their daily lives and work. Training for gender equality is part and parcel of delivering our commitments to equal human rights for all.

The UN Women Training Centre approach to training for gender equality is guided by key international normative instruments, in particular:

- Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW)
- Beijing Platform for Action

Who can take UN Women Training Centre courses?

The UN Women Training Centre serves government counterparts, the UN system, civil society organizations, and everyone who is interested in gender equality and women's empowerment.

What type of learning modalities does the UN Women Training Centre use?

The UN Women Training Centre employs the following learning Modalities:

- Self-paced courses are delivered online and can be accessed through a computer. Self-paced courses allow participants to access content on their own pace, and from anywhere at any time.
- Moderated courses emulate the traditional classroom environment and take this experience to an online setting with various facilities such as discussion forums, interactive webinars, webcasts (or both), and real-time chatting.
- Blended courses combine online and face-to-face learning. Part of the course is given online and part of the course is face-to-face.
- Face-to-face courses allow facilitators and participants to be present in a physical room.

Customized Courses

The UN Women Training Centre continuously identifies gaps in training and responds to demands for trainings on new contents. Customized courses are available on demand year-round in various learning modalities and can be customized to fit the needs of a specific audience.

How much do courses cost?

LOCATION:

trainingcentre.unwomen.org

TUITION FEE:

USD $600

LANGUAGE:

English, French and Spanish

DURATION:

11 weeks

SCHOLARSHIP:

Available based on scholarship policy

COURSE OBJECTIVE:

This course has two principle aims: the first one is to enhance the analytical and practical skills of Gender Responsive Budgeting (GRB) practitioners, translating theory into practice by building capacity in the application of GRB analysis and enhancing understanding of the gender dimension in each step in the policy-budget cycle. The second aim of this course is to enhance the necessary skills to identify entry points to introduce GRB and to develop a sustainable strategy.

COURSE CONTENT:

The course content is organized in 5 modules following the logic of the policymaking process:

- Module 1: Context analysis
- Module 2: Policy analysis
- Module 3: Budget analysis
- Module 4: Monitoring and Evaluation
- Module 5: GRB Strategies

The last module (Module 5) summarizes the main features to consider at the time of designing or implementing a GRB strategy. This module also examines Public Finance Management reforms and the budget process as entry points to introduce GRB.

AUDIENCE:

The course is open to GRB practitioners and all who want to conduct GRB analysis (specially, sectoral analysis or gender analysis of expenditure) and/or to implement a GRB initiative using a practical strategy. The course will be of particular benefit to governmental policymakers and development practitioners, including United Nations staff who are supporting GRB initiatives, researchers, civil society and advocates who are working on gender mainstreaming in different spheres such as public policy, planning and budgeting or who are keen to enhance their knowledge of GRB sectoral analysis and strategies.

Amsterdam

TUITION FEE:
Information upon request

LANGUAGE:
English

DURATION:
9-month programme (5 to 8
hours per week)

SCHOLARSHIP:
Available based on
scholarship policy

COURSE OBJECTIVE:

This certification aims to reposition training for gender equality as strategy to challenge and engender mainstream development and support the achievement of SDGs. It also hopes to pilot a professional development programme for gender trainers that:

- re-thinks training for gender equality as feminist knowledge transfer and creation
- re-claims training for gender equality as a political feminist process
- develops a cadre of gender trainers equipped with feminist pedagogy

COURSE CONTENT:

The programme employs professional development workshops (face to face and virtual), virtual learning on theories and concepts and facilitation techniques and tools, and virtual mentoring. It is a twelvemonth programme where the first quarter will be devoted to elaboration of the programme, fund-raising and recruitment of trainees. It is envisaged that the same cohort of trainees will participate in a series of three face-workshops, as well as homework assignment, virtual learning events and one-on-one mentoring activities in between workshops.

AUDIENCE:

The programme aims to work in a co-creation process with experienced gender trainers from both the global south and north.

TUITION FEE:

USD $1500

LANGUAGE:

English, Spanish

DURATION:

4 weeks online, 5 days
Face-to-Face

SCHOLARSHIP:

Available based on
scholarship policy

COURSE OBJECTIVE:

This course seeks to enhance the knowledge and capacity of trainers / facilitators by providing training in the field of gender responsive budgeting (GRB) and on specific topics in this field. This face to face course aims to combine theory with hands-on training for GRB and to provide participants with the necessary skills and tools to develop an efficient capacity development strategy.

COURSE CONTENT:

During one week, participants will undertake Training of Trainers (TOT) sessions, theoretical sessions, practical exercises, debates and participatory dynamics. In theoretical sessions on GRB, specific tools or methodologies will be presented, analyzed and discussed in depth. Specific country examples and practical hands-on-training exercises will be included in each session, allowing students to combine theory with practice. Guided by a participatory dynamic, the sessions on training needs will also be prepared and delivered by a trainer via a horizontal learning process wherein both trainers and trainees learn from one another. Finally, the course will include ToT sessions aimed to enhance training skills of participants in the subject of GRB. During the TOT sessions, each student is expected to present a GRB session to be developed in groups of 5 persons.

AUDIENCE:

The course will be of particular benefit to:

- Development practitioners including United Nations System staff, researchers, policy-makers, civil society and advocates who are working on gender mainstreaming in different spheres such as public policy, planning and budgeting.
- Gender trainers and/or programme officers with a good level of knowledge on gender responsive budgeting.

GENDER EQUALITY CAPACITY ASSESSMENT TOOL 2ND VERSION

Language: English, French and Spanish

Objective: The Capacity Assessment Tool responds to UN Women's mandate and the requirements of the UN System-Wide Action Plan (UN-SWAP). It is a way to assess the understanding, knowledge and skills that a given organization and their staff have on gender equality and women's empowerment, and on the organization's gender architecture and gender policy. Capacity assessment refers to the process through which the information is gathered and analyzed and also to the results of this analysis. The information gathered with this tool can be complemented with more qualitative assessment methods such as interviews, focus group discussions and systematic observation.

The tool includes an easy-to-implement questionnaire and guidelines. It is divided into the following sections: the introduction, the questionnaire, how to implement it and additional resources.

Audience: It seeks to support gender and human resources specialists within the UN System and as well as UN counterparts and partners in their own organizations.
